Practitioner's Guide to Arbitration in the Middle East and North Africa Jun 13 2021

The Practitioner's Guide to Arbitration in the Middle East and North Africa is the culmination of the real experience and expertise from those experts and authorities directly involved with arbitration in their respective countries. The book is the first of its kind to target the Mena region specifically and is essential for anyone working in the area of arbitration both in the Middle East and world-wide. The practice of arbitration of private disputes is not new to MENA countries. Arbitration has long been recognized as a legitimate and culturally accepted practice of dispute resolution, dating back to dispute resolution practices of the early Islamic period, and even the pre-Islamic era. International commercial arbitration, and its cultural and juridical acceptance, is a more recent and complex phenomenon nonetheless on the rise in MENA countries. It is now standard for arbitration clauses to be included in contracts governing international transactions and there is a growing consensus among MENA merchants engaged in international trade, along with their commercial counterparts in the rest of the world, that international arbitration is preferable to litigation in domestic courts for purposes of resolving private commercial disputes. While subject to some qualifications and restrictions in some instances, in many, if not most, MENA countries, arbitration clauses can be included in contracts with government entities engaging in commercial transactions. Additionally, conferences, seminars, and training programs in international arbitration are on the rise, and various international arbitration centres have been established. The advantages from the perspective of private parties are tremendous: Parties can elect which law will apply to disputes arising from their transactions, and they can remove themselves from the constraints and biases of parochial attitudes in national courts. There is also an increasing acceptance by national courts of international arbitration standards, such as the principle of Kompetenz-Kompetenz, recognising the right of arbitrators to decide their own jurisdiction and the separability of the arbitration clause. More frequently, courts are granting assistance and support to international arbitrations and are more receptive to enforcing foreign awards. This book is a comprehensive guide to arbitration in Algeria, Bahrain, Egypt, Iran, Jordan, Kuwait, Lebanon, Libya, Morocco, Oman, Palestine, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, Sudan, Syria, Tunisia, UAE, and Yemen. Written in question/answer format by leading practitioners and firms from the region, it elicits the most salient features of the legal framework for arbitration and international arbitration in each of the respective countries.

A Traveller's History of North Africa Dec 07 2020 This concise and readable guide to the history and culture of Morocco, Tunisia, Libya and Algeria, relates the history of the region from its earliest beginnings to its politics and life at the turn of the new century. North Africa is surrounded by the Mediterranean, the Atlantic, and to the south, the sands of the Sahara. It has seen wave upon wave of invasion, from the Carthaginians in the 5th century BC to the French in the 20th century.

Classical Antiquity Apr 30 2020 If you want to discover the captivating history of Classical Antiquity, then keep reading... From about the 9th to 5th centuries BCE, the population of Greece grew unprecedentedly large, expanding from about 800,000 people to as many as 13 million. About a quarter million of these lived in Athens. The average size of urban households during this period grew considerably, a fact that suggests that food was suddenly available in excesses sufficient to keep larger families healthy and alive much more effectively than just a millennium earlier. Bigger families meant bigger armies and larger communities that would eventually grow into the metropolises of Classical Greece. This incredible stretch of time is called Classical Antiquity; the age in which Western civilization first realized its potential and place in the world. The era brought on big changes for all the people of the Mediterranean. Thanks to new agricultural methods, seafaring technology, and trade, great civilizations sprang up around the sea, building large urban centers full of artists, merchants, political thinkers, scientists, and philosophers. As Greco-Roman culture grew, the relationships each city and realm had with one another also developed and changed. In Classical Antiquity: A Captivating Guide to Ancient Greece and

Rome and How These Civilizations Influenced Europe, North Africa, and Western Asia, you will discover topics such as A Blind Poet from Ionia Pythagoras Athens, Greece The Greek Pantheon The Expulsion of the Persians Slavery The Golden Age of Athens Pericles at War The Socratic Method Plato Alexander the Great The Hellenistic Period From Greece to Rome The Roman Republic The Borrowed Gods of Rome The Classical Romans The Gladiators Julius Caesar, Part 1 Julius Caesar, Part 2 The Roman Empire The City of Pompeii Antonine and Cyprian Plagues Britannia and Londinium Remnants of Classical Antiquity And much, much more! Architecture of the Islamic West Mar 10 2021 An authoritative survey situating some of the Western world's most renowned buildings within a millennium of Islamic history Some of the most outstanding examples of world architecture, such as the Mosque of Córdoba, the ceiling of the Cappella Palatina in Palermo, the Giralda tower in Seville, and the Alhambra Palace in Granada, belong to the Western Islamic tradition. This architectural style flourished for over a thousand years along the southern and western shores of the Mediterranean—between Tunisia and Spain—from the 8th century through the 19th, blending new ideas with local building practices from across the region. Jonathan M. Bloom's Architecture of the Islamic West introduces readers to the full scope of this vibrant tradition, presenting both famous and little-known buildings in six countries in North Africa and southern Europe. It is richly illustrated with photographs, specially commissioned architectural plans, and historical documents. The result is a personally guided tour of Islamic architecture led by one of the finest scholars in the field and a powerful testament to Muslim cultural achievement.

Die 21 Apr 11 2021 Im Frühjahr 2017 reiste Martin Mosebach nach Ägypten. Er besuchte im Dorf El-Or die Familien der 21 koptischen Männer, die zwei Jahre zuvor von IS-Terroristen an einem Strand in Libyen ermordet worden waren. Er saß in Empfangszimmern, durch die die Schwalben flogen, und machte sich ein Bild: von den Madonnenbildern und Jesus-Porträts an den Wänden, den grob geschreinerten Reliquienschränken, von einer Lebenswelt, in der alles die Spiegelung oder Erfüllung biblischer Vorgänge ist. Immer wieder wurde ihm, umgeben von Kindern, Ziegen, Kälbern, auf einem iPad das grausame Propagandavideo des IS vorgeführt; er staunte über den unbefangenen Umgang damit. Von Rache war nie die Rede, sondern vom Stolz, einen Martyrer in der Familie zu haben, einen Heiligen, der im Himmel ist. So erscheinen die 21 auf den neuen Ikonen gekrönt wie Könige. Martin Mosebach hat ein Reisebuch geschrieben über seine Begegnung mit einer fremden Gesellschaft und einer Kirche, die den Glauben und die Liturgie der frühen Christenheit bewahrt hat - der "Kirche der Martyrer", in der das irdische Leben von der himmlischen Sphäre nur wie durch ein Eihäutchen geschieden ist. Er traf den Bischof und die koptischen Geistlichen der 21 Wanderarbeiter, besuchte ihre Kirchen und Klöster. In den Zeiten des Kampfes der Kulturen sind die Kopten als Minderheit im muslimischen Ägypten zu einem politischen Faktor geworden - und zu einer Art religiösen Gegengesellschaft. Damit ist dieses Buch auch ein Bericht aus dem Innenleben eines arabischen Landes zwischen biblischer Vergangenheit und den Einkaufszentren von Neu-Kairo.

Reference Guide to Africa Jun 01 2020 This third edition of the Reference Guide to Africa explains the most important resources for the study of the continent of Africa. It contains a general sources section and a larger disciplinary oriented section. All sources are annotated.
